

Cuts the sound short like the English word "uh?oh". ʔ	Always sounds like the a in the English word "father". a	Same as English b . b	ts sound like in the English word "cats". c	ts sound like the / c / but glottalized. c'	ch sound like in the English word "church". č	ch sound like the / č / but glottalized. č'	Same as English d . d
Sounds like the ds in the English word "rods". dʒ	Always sound like the u in the English word "up". ə	Same as g in the English word "get". g	gw sound like in the English name "Gwen". g<sup>w</sup>	Same as English h . h	ee sound or ay sound in the English word "bee" or "bay". i These sounds are interchangeable in tx <sup>w</sup> əlšucid	j sound in the English word "judge". ǰ	k sound like in the English word "kid". k
k sound like the / k / but glottalized. k'	kw sound like the qu in the English word "queen". k<sup>w</sup>	kw sound like the / k<sup>w</sup> / but glottalized. k'<sup>w</sup>	l sound like in the English word "light". l	Similar to an l sound but tighten the vocal cords and stopping the sound. l'	Non-English Sound. ɬ	Non-English Sound. ɬ'	Same as English m . m
Same as English n . n	Same as English p . p	Sounds like the / p / but glottalized. p'	Non-English Sound. q	<h3>Non-English Sound Pronunciation Guide</h3> <table border="1"> <tr> <td>'</td> <td>Glottalized letters are made by closing the vocal cords and using the air in your mouth to pop out the sound.</td> </tr> <tr> <td>ɬ</td> <td>Place tongue on the ridge behind your front teeth. Then, with saliva on your tongue, blow air around both sides of your tongue.</td> </tr> <tr> <td>ɬ'</td> <td>Place tongue on the ridge behind your front teeth. Then, with your throat closed, click the sides of your tongue. Similar to calling a horse but pop out.</td> </tr> <tr> <td>q</td> <td>Similar to the / k / but further back in the throat. Place your tongue at the bottom of your mouth and say "key".</td> </tr> <tr> <td>q'</td> <td>Similar to the tx<sup>w</sup>əlšucid / q / but glottalized, meaning you hold your breath and pop the sound out.</td> </tr> <tr> <td>q<sup>w</sup></td> <td>Similar to the tx<sup>w</sup>əlšucid / q / but with your lips rounded.</td> </tr> <tr> <td>q'<sup>w</sup></td> <td>Similar to the tx<sup>w</sup>əlšucid / q<sup>w</sup> / but glottalized, meaning you hold your breath and pop the sound out.</td> </tr> <tr> <td>x<sup>w</sup></td> <td>Round your lips and blow. Similar to the sound of blowing out a candle.</td> </tr> <tr> <td>ǰ</td> <td>This sound is made in the back of the throat near the same area as the / q /. It is similar to a throat clearing sound.</td> </tr> <tr> <td>ǰ<sup>w</sup></td> <td>Sounds similar to the tx<sup>w</sup>əlšucid / ǰ / but with your lips rounded.</td> </tr> </table>				'	Glottalized letters are made by closing the vocal cords and using the air in your mouth to pop out the sound.	ɬ	Place tongue on the ridge behind your front teeth. Then, with saliva on your tongue, blow air around both sides of your tongue.	ɬ'	Place tongue on the ridge behind your front teeth. Then, with your throat closed, click the sides of your tongue. Similar to calling a horse but pop out.	q	Similar to the / k / but further back in the throat. Place your tongue at the bottom of your mouth and say "key".	q'	Similar to the tx <sup>w</sup> əlšucid / q / but glottalized, meaning you hold your breath and pop the sound out.	q <sup>w</sup>	Similar to the tx <sup>w</sup> əlšucid / q / but with your lips rounded.	q' <sup>w</sup>	Similar to the tx <sup>w</sup> əlšucid / q<sup>w</sup> / but glottalized, meaning you hold your breath and pop the sound out.	x <sup>w</sup>	Round your lips and blow. Similar to the sound of blowing out a candle.	ǰ	This sound is made in the back of the throat near the same area as the / q /. It is similar to a throat clearing sound.	ǰ <sup>w</sup>	Sounds similar to the tx <sup>w</sup> əlšucid / ǰ / but with your lips rounded.
'	Glottalized letters are made by closing the vocal cords and using the air in your mouth to pop out the sound.
ɬ	Place tongue on the ridge behind your front teeth. Then, with saliva on your tongue, blow air around both sides of your tongue.
ɬ'	Place tongue on the ridge behind your front teeth. Then, with your throat closed, click the sides of your tongue. Similar to calling a horse but pop out.
q	Similar to the / k / but further back in the throat. Place your tongue at the bottom of your mouth and say "key".
q'	Similar to the tx <sup>w</sup> əlšucid / q / but glottalized, meaning you hold your breath and pop the sound out.
q <sup>w</sup>	Similar to the tx <sup>w</sup> əlšucid / q / but with your lips rounded.
q' <sup>w</sup>	Similar to the tx <sup>w</sup> əlšucid / q<sup>w</sup> / but glottalized, meaning you hold your breath and pop the sound out.
x <sup>w</sup>	Round your lips and blow. Similar to the sound of blowing out a candle.
ǰ	This sound is made in the back of the throat near the same area as the / q /. It is similar to a throat clearing sound.
ǰ <sup>w</sup>	Sounds similar to the tx <sup>w</sup> əlšucid / ǰ / but with your lips rounded.
Non-English Sound. q'	Non-English Sound. q<sup>w</sup>	Non-English Sound. q'<sup>w</sup>	Same as English s . s
sh sound like in the English word "shoe". š	Same as English t . t	Sounds like the / t / but glottalized. t'	oo sound or oa sound in the English word "boat" or "boat". u These sounds are interchangeable in tx <sup>w</sup> əlšucid
Same as English w . w	Similar to an w sound but tighten the vocal cords and stopping the sound. w'	Non-English Sound. x<sup>w</sup>	Non-English Sound. ǰ
Non-English Sound. ǰ<sup>w</sup>	Same as the y in the English word "yell". y	Similar to the y sound but with a glottal stop after. y'

Puyallup Tribal Language Program
www.PuyallupTribalLanguage.org

